ABOUT ABBOTT

Abbott has long been in the business of life, creating more possibilities for more people through the power of health. People at their healthiest have the potential to live not just longer, but better, in mind and body. Better health allows people and communities to achieve more. We create new solutions — in medical devices, nutrition, and branded generic pharmaceuticals — that help people around the world, in all stages of life, live their best lives.

Founded more than 125 years ago by Chicago physician Dr. Wallace C. Abbott, Abbott is now one of the largest diversified global healthcare companies.

Our approximately 73,000 colleagues around the globe are devoted to making a lasting impact on human health in the more than 150 countries we serve.

MILES D. WHITE
Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer

“Abbott fulfills its potential as a company by helping others to fulfill theirs. This applies to all that we do as an innovator, as a business, as an employer, and as a neighbor.”

We value our diversity — that of our products, technologies, markets, and people — and believe that diverse perspectives, combined with shared goals, inspire new ideas and better ways of addressing changing health needs.

GETTING STARTED
Abbott is committed to purchasing from a diverse base of suppliers, including small businesses and those owned by minorities, women, LGBT, veterans, service-disabled veterans, and Native American tribes, as well as businesses located in historically underutilized business zones. We seek to establish proactive relationships that create shared value and deliver a positive social impact.
